AFFIDAVIT OF CHERYL R. MITCHELL

Dear Sir:

State of California

ss:

County of San Joaquin

Cheryl R. Mitchell, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

1. I am a co-inventor and applicant in the United States patent application of Mitchell et al., Serial No. 10/614,940, filed July 7, 2003, which application was technically abandoned on February 6, 2006;
2. The title to the instant patent application is currently the subject of litigation in Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware in and for New Castle County; Creative Research Manufacturing v. Advanced Bio-Delivery LLC and Phlo System, Inc., Del.Ch., C.A. No. 1211-N-VC Parsons (the "Delaware Litigation");
3. The express abandonment of the instant application was performed by James Hovis and Phlo System, Inc. for improper purposes and apparently in order to frustrate any adverse judgment issued in the Delaware Litigation;
4. James Mitchell and I are co-inventors and the true owners of the instant application;
5. That said abandonment was entirely unintentional by the true owners;
6. That promptly upon realizing the import of the abandonment, James B. Mitchell and I caused to be drafted the accompanying petition to revive the unintentionally abandoned application and I executed this affidavit.

Affiant avers that the abandonment of the above-identified application was entirely unintentional as indicated above and that it occurred without any fraudulent or deceptive intention by the inventors and true owners of the application.
